THE ASIAN TANKER CONFERENCE CHARTERING OPERATIONS AND LAYTIME & DEMURRAGE

THE IMPORTANCE OF THIS CONFERENCE

Asdem's Asian Tanker Conference on Chartering Operations and Laytime and Demurrage will provide operations professionals, laytime and demurrage analysts, negotiators, and maritime claims specialist from all over Asia a deeper insight in, and solutions to, both common and complex laytime and demurrage issues and dilemmas.

This conference provides an important opportunity to review the latest terms and, in certain cases, the courts' interpretation of them by focusing on the most recent developments in laytime and demurrage law. If you are a tanker owner, charterer, operator, demurrage analyst or post-fixture professional attending this conference will deliver long-lasting results for you and the company you work for.

To ensure a highly effective and focused learning opportunity for our delegates, we will be organising a panel of industry experts who come from a range of disciplines to share their knowledge and experience. We are also organising speakers who represent the ship owners and charterers, as well as lawyers who regularly work with both sides.

This conference will also provide delegates with a valuable opportunity to share ideas, become aware of the latest trends and network with each other. A drinks reception and dinner, which will immediately follow this event, is included in the conference fee.

CONFERENCE PARTICULARS

- Date 14 November 2024
- Length: 1 Day (09:15 to 17:15). Drinks reception and conference dinner (17:30 to 20:30)
- Location: The Robertson House Hotel, 1 Unity Street, Singapore
- Cost: SG $1,200* per delegate

*Delegates wishing to pay the conference fee in other currencies may do so.

CONFERENCE DRINKS RECEPTION AND DINNER

A drinks reception and dinner is a signature feature at many of Asdem's international conferences which allows delegates an opportunity to relax and socialise with each other, say hello to old acquaintances and friends and the chance to make new ones. Those who cannot join the conference are welcome to attend the dinner for SG $200 per person. Please contact us at info@asdem.com.

FEATURES OF THIS CONFERENCE

Asdem conferences provide the means of staying up to date on laytime and demurrage issues and case law which will help you gain professional knowledge and give you a competitive edge.

Our conferences provide a forum in which learning and asking questions without judgement is the key to building your knowledge and seeing things from another perspective. Getting out of the office to attend Asdem's conferences and networking with new people keeps you abreast of your competitors' thinking, which can be used to your, and your employer's, advantage.

Drawing on their expertise and experience, our speakers outline a practical approach to various issues in the tanker industry. Detailed and concise studies of recent case law are used to consider the latest developments and explain a more dynamic and proactive approach to the settlement of claims, often taken in the international market, to help reduce the time and cost of commercially harmful disputes.

As an active learning event, we encourage delegates to bring along case studies, problems or any dilemmas commonly faced, engage with the issues, as well as analyse, participate and collaborate with each other on them.

CONFERENCE TOPICS

Our speakers will include experts in the field of freight, laytime and demurrage, operations, cargo assurance and loss control together with practitioners who have made a career out of solving complicated problems by understanding how maritime law works. The topics which will be covered during his event include:

- THE RIPPLE EFFECT OF NIGERIAN TAXATION ON INTERNATIONAL SHIPPING
